

“Those who attended Life at LCU showed greater confidence while others were still struggling to adjust.”

Mitch Simpson,
English professor

“Why spend $150 extra when you’re already paying for your student’s tuition, room, and board?...because it’s the first step in protecting your investment.”

Dr. Chris Keith,
New Testament professor

Did you know?

- 67% of high school graduates immediately enroll in college
- 30% do not complete their first year of college
- Only 36% graduate from college within four years
- 50% never graduate from college

Your student can benefit from “Life at LCU”

During Life at LCU, your student will get personalized assistance in the following areas:

- Building academic self-confidence through
 - personalized faculty feedback & practice writing a college level (Turabian style) paper
 - participation in faculty-lead discussion groups
- Academic management skills through
 - study skills training including note-taking
 - time management workshops
 - introduction to academic library resources
 - spiritual life workshops
- Develop awareness and familiarity with LCU support structures through
 - social interaction with academic dean, faculty, residence hall directors
 - campus scavenger hunt
- Hands-on instruction in the use of Angel, LCU’s online course management system
- Develop a strong social network of academic peers through learning-centered interaction and off-campus activities

Plus, they move in early – before the crowd!

Ensure your student’s success by participating in

Life at LCU

August 15-19, 2011

Cost: $150